Call for witnesses to fatal collision

OVERCOMBE COURT: Close to the scene of Sunday's accident.

By Trevor Bevins

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a fatal collision in Weymouth on Sunday afternoon in which an elderly man died.

The accident happened near Overcombe Corner at Preston shortly after 5pm. Police said the man, in his 80s, and his wife were crossing the B3159 Preston Beach Road when he was in collision with a yellow Suzuki motorcycle travelling north. He died at the scene. His wife was shocked but unhurt.

The biker, a 26-year-old from Dorchester, was thrown from his machine and broke both arms. He is being treated in Dorset County Hospital after being flown from the scene in an air ambulance. A street light collapsed across the road after being hit in the collision.

Police accident investigators closed the road for most of the evening, resulting in traffic delays in the town centre and as far afield as Dorchester, as people who had been in the town for the annual Beach Motocross event tried to make their way home.

PC Andy Fields, of Dorset police's traffic unit, said: "We are appealing to anyone who witnessed the collision and has not yet spoken to officers to please call Dorset Police on 101.

"We know immediately before the collision occurred the motorcyclist was riding with another motorcyclist travelling on a purple and black Honda bike."

A 31-year-old man from Weymouth has been arrested on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving and has been released on police bail until mid-January 2016 pending further enquiries.

Second road death within a month

■ THE death is the second involving an elderly pedestrian in the area within a month.

In mid-September an 86-year-old local woman died after being struck by a lorry while crossing the road within yards of Sunday's fatal crash.

The driver of the lorry, a white Iveco box van registered to a company from Wimborne, was uninjured.

RICHARD John Balson, 58, is the Master Butcher at RJ Balson and Son. The Balson family has run the shop for 500 years and it has seen 25 generations work at the Bridport store. RJ Balson is run by Richard and his brother in law Rudi Boulay.

● SURVIVING for 500 years in a small Dorset town is surely something to be immensely proud of?
It's great for the town of Bridport and it's a very unique situation. We are immensely proud of our achievement and to have been around since the time that Henry VIII was king, and still trading is unbelievable. This was the year before the first published account of the discovery of North America appeared and eight years before the cocoa bean was introduced to Spain.

● TELL us about the ethos at RJ Balson & Sons?
We offer and demand from our staff a friendly personal shopping experience. Some might say its more of an old fashioned service but we try to treat everyone equally and with respect.

● RJ BALSON started off as a market stall, how important is the market still to Bridport?
The market is very important to Bridport. It is a great market town full of independent shops. In 1515 there was only the market stalls and that's how we got started, in an era before shops.

● WOULD you say you mostly deal with regulars or are you expanding your customer base all the time?
We are a mixture really with 50 per cent of our customer being the local regulars, and the other 50 per cent being wholesale, but we attract custom from all over Dorset.

● WHY is locally butchered meat so preferable to supermarket fare?
Our butchered meat is of a better quality and importantly is fully traceable from the field to the fork. At RJ Balson's we also hang our meat for customer preference. It's the little things that make all the difference when buying from a butchers instead of a supermarket.

● TELL us about your father Donald and his 73-year service to the company
He taught me everything I know and I had the pleasure of working alongside him for 40 years, and I miss him so much. He trained Rudi and myself. He started with the firm in 1938 and always maintained that his first task was to go out into the fields to catch our horse before he could begin the day's deliveries. After 73 years service to the firm, interrupted only by service to HM Navy during the 1940s, Donald sadly passed away in 2011.

● IS THE next generation of Balson's already donning the aprons?
All Balsons are born with a sausage in their hand and there is two generations waiting in the wings, however I am not ready to retire just yet.

● SO plans for another 500 years?
Yes, why not, we plan to keep offering great products and great service for the next 500 years. I love my job and my customers and I have a passion and pride in who I am and in practising the butchery craft. Long may we reign.

MORE than 100 Weymouth and Portland Chamber of Commerce members and guests attended a glamorous Hollywood Ball at Pennsylvania Castle, Portland. The event raised more than £2,000 for Headway, a UK charity that works to improve life after brain injury. Chamber president Michelle Hind said: "The Headway charity is dear to my heart as my niece was involved in a serious accident a couple years ago. We did not expect her to survive, but she has nearly made a full recovery and I could not recommend Headway more to support survivors and their families. As president I would like to thank our member Fiona Penny who has organised this spectacular event from designing the tickets, decorating the room, organising the raffle and auction to selecting the food and entertainment." Alan and Karen Bozeat attended the ball on behalf of Headway Dorset as guests of the president and they thanked everyone present for their support. Karen said: "Acquired Brain Injury is not easy to raise funds for, although there are over two million people living today with some form of injury acquired during their lifetime, so thank you once again to you all". If you would like more information about Headway Dorset visit www.headway.org.uk. The Chamber has over 125 members and meets every first Tuesday of the month. The next breakfast meeting will be held on November 3rd. Pictured above, from the left, are Alan and Karen Bozeat, Michelle Hind and guest Nick White.

Pub raided

POLICE in Weymouth are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information after thieves broke into The Turk's Head pub at Chickerell and stole a large quantity of cash.

The incident happened overnight between Sunday, October 4th and Monday 5th at the East Street pub. Offenders forced their way into the property and stole cash from two vending machines and a safe.

Detective Constable Andy Marsh, of Weymouth CID, said: "I am appealing to anyone who saw or heard anything suspicious in the area at the time of the incident to call me on 101.

"All calls will be treated in strict confidence."

Deadline near

CANDIDATES who want to stand for a Weymouth County Council seat only have until the end of this week to put themselves forward.

Nominations for the Rodwell division close this Friday, October 16th, with a by-election expected to take place on Thursday, November 12th if more than one candidate stands.

The vacancy follows the resignation of Dan Brember, who took the seat for Labour in 2013 and is stepping down because of work commitments.

Bones found

POLICE sealed off a passage in Weymouth town centre on Friday – after workmen uncovered human bones while digging up a pavement.

The discovery was made in Church Passage between St Mary Street and Maiden Street and the remains were later taken away for analysis.

Police said: "We are not treating it as suspicious."

25 residents to move out as care home is set to close

WEYMOUTH'S Mount Pleasant care home is to be run down and closed – with the building being handed back to the county council by the New Year.

Care South, which runs the home, says it will try and find positions for the 45 full and part-time staff and is already working with the county council to re-locate 25 residents.

The company has run the home since 1991.

In a statement the company say that the lease they hold with Dorset County Council will end 'shortly' and the building will be handed back to the council.

"Care South and Dorset County Council have been working closely together and have jointly concluded that the home should close due to changing needs and increased market expectations. We have taken the decision to begin to close the home now, so that we have plenty of time to ensure our residents find new homes and our staff can find new jobs – either with Care South or elsewhere."

The home has been highly regarded, with a string of awards, over the years, for its staff.

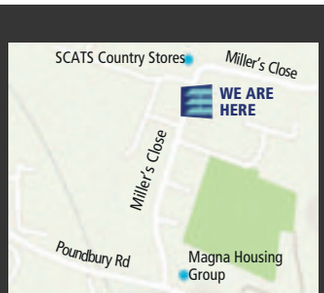

At the end of July the home hosted what turns out to have been its last summer garden party which was well attended by the families and friends of those who live in the home as well as neighbours.

'Cautious optimism' over police funding formula

WHILE the Police Commissioner for Devon and Cornwall, Tony Hogg, has described the government's initial proposals for changes to police funding as 'disastrous' , the commissioner for Dorset, Martyn Underhill, has welcomed them with cautious optimism.

Mr Underhill is pleased with the Government's initial proposals following the recent consultation over the funding formula used to allocate grant funding to police forces in England and Wales.

The commissioner has long campaigned for a fairer funding deal from central government for Dorset Police, with the current formula he says being outdated, unfair and not fit for purpose.

He is therefore glad that a number of elements from the Dorset submission to the consultation appear to have been included in the initial proposals being put forward by the Government to update the national formula. This includes removal of the flawed method used to recognise each force area's ability to raise money through council tax, but retention of the impact of the density of bars in a particular location.

Mr Underhill said: "I am encouraged by the initial proposals being put forward by the Government in relation to police funding nationally and, whilst the consultation remains ongoing, this potentially looks like a much fairer deal for Dorset Police and local communities.

"For example, if the initial proposals were implemented, this would see Dorset's share of the national police funding increase from 0.83 per cent to 0.87 per cent - equivalent to an increase in grant funding of £2.8 million per year."

"The consultation remains ongoing however, and any final proposals will also be subject to transitional arrangements which will see the changes phased in over a period of time."

"It is also important to remember the wider funding context as well, with Dorset Police expecting to see a reduction of at least 25 per cent in their grant funding over the next four years when the next Comprehensive Spending Review (CSR) is announced in November.

"It is therefore vital that Dorset receives better equality from the changes in funding formula."

Youth Parliament explained

OUTGOING Dorset UK Youth Parliament members are hosting an information day this week to share their experiences with other students.

The event will be held this Thursday, October 15th, at the Dorchester Youth Centre, Kings Road between 9.30am – 2.30pm.

It aims to offer a better understanding of political processes and the opportunity to meet like-minded young people.

Keen to share their experiences are members of the UK Youth Parliament, Jack Dunne and Lucy Armstrong together with Dorset Members of Youth Parliament Grace Van Zyl and Crystal-Lily Mills. They will be running a series of personal development and skill building workshops focussing on communication and campaigning.

Cllr Toni Coombs, Cabinet Member for Children and Young People said: "This is a fantastic opportunity for students to build on their confidence and self-esteem, learn how to make a positive difference to the lives of other young people and develop debating skills. I would encourage as many young people as possible to attend this open day – you never know what you might learn."

Visitors take the chance to go behind the scenes at the hospital

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

HUNDREDS of visitors took the chance of a behind the scenes look at Dorset County Hospital at their open afternoon on Saturday.

Staff were offering walking tours of several departments and giving visitors the chance to be checked for diabetes.

The high-tech' simulation unit was popular with visitors with its robotic 'dummy' able to simulate an almost unlimited number of scenarios for staff training.

For the first time there was almost unprecedented access to areas not usually open to the public, including pharmacy, the laboratories, operating theatres, sterile services and radiology.

The hospital is celebrating its 175th birthday this year, and to mark it there was the chance to learn more about the institution's history, and to take part in the launch of the new interactive Treves Trail as part of the '175 Years of Dorset Healthcare' project.

Treves was a Royal Surgeon, who came from Dorchester, whose story was told in the film 'The Elephant Man.'

The hospital had also teamed up with colleagues in the local ambulance and fire services this year with emergency vehicles on site.

As well as offering food and drink the Damers Restaurant hosted displays from departments around the Trust, including Research and Development, ICT, the DCH Charity, PALS and Trust membership. The recruitment and volunteering teams were also there to discuss opportunities to join the staff at the hospital.

Chief Executive Patricia Miller said: "This is a chance for us to showcase the wonderful work that goes on at the hospital, often behind the scenes…

"Staff have put a lot of work into organising this afternoon."

Hygiea
Pride in your property
SOFT WASH ROOF CLEAN
0800 6891271
www.hygiea.co.uk
No pressure washing, no walking on your roof.
A fully insured professional service

WITH autumn well and truly upon us our thoughts begin to turn to battening down the hatches for winter. One area often overlooked is your property's roof, despite the fact that it bears the brunt of the rain, hail, snow and frost! But it's worth giving it a second thought because that moss up there is slowly causing problems which accelerate over winter. Rain sodden moss adds considerably to the weight load on your roof, but of more concern is the freeze/thaw effect. Waterlogged moss expands when frozen, lifting tiles and causing them to fracture at the join with the tile above. In addition, moss at any cement/tile join (ridge tiles and gulley interfaces for example) will gradually crack the cement seal, causing the render to fall out and allowing moisture in. Removing the moss halts this process entirely, which in the long term reduces your maintenance costs. As an added bonus the roof cleaners will, as part of the process, clear your gutters and downpipes ready for winter.

Air your views on sight and hearing services

THIS week is the deadline for Dorset residents to contribute their views about proposed changes to the county's sight and hearing service.

Dorset County Council has been undertaking a review of how it delivers all of its social care services.

Sight and hearing services will continue to be provided in the future, but the council is proposing some changes that will enable people with sight and hearing needs to access appropriate care and support in a more timely way.

Harry Capron, head of adult care at Dorset County Council, said: "Our annual funding from central Government is going down in real terms, while the demand for our services – and the cost of providing them – is going up. We have to save £45 million by 2017-18, and want to spend what we have in the areas where people tell us it will make the most difference to them and the people they care for.

"Engagement such as this is important in helping us ensure that our proposed changes would have a positive impact on our sight and hearing services and inform our decision-making process."

The closing date for telephone comments only is this Thursday, October 15th, on 01305 221085.

TWO fundraising events are being held by Portland's Island Community Action in the coming days.

At the C2000 hall on Friday, October 16th there will be a prize bingo – doors open at 1.30pm and eyes down at 2pm.

This will be followed on Saturday, October 17th, from 9.30am when a coffee morning will be held at Easton Methodist Church.

ENTRIES for this year's Portland autumn photo competition can be seen over the weekend at St George's Centre, Reforne.

The Island of Portland Heritage Trust will be holding the event on both Saturday, October 17th and Sunday 18th.

Ten different classes will be judged.

Blindfolded shopping experience gives a new appreciation of living without sight

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

WEYMOUTH and Portland Lions enlisted Mayor Christine James to help publicise the organisation's work in helping with sight issues.

The Mayor and Lion Trevor Stratton donned blindfolds and then attempted to do a weekly shop at the Tesco, Easton store.

After fumbling around the aisle Cllr James admitted it wasn't an experience she would like to repeat.

"It's very disorientating. You have to take little steps and you start reacting in a different way. You can feel the cold from the fridges and hear the noise but there's very little to help you work out what you might be buying," she said.

"I wouldn't want to have to do this but it has really raised my awareness of the problems people with sight loss face."

Tesco community champion Debs Lindo was on hand to guide the pair around the store. "We always have members of staff available to help customers with diverse abilities but, in reality, we get very few people with sight problems who come and do their own shopping."

The Lions carried out their blindfold shopping expedition on World Sight Day, something which is supported by Lions groups around the world.

"As an organisation it has always been one of the areas which we support and we have a long history of campaigning and fund-raising about sight loss," said President Les Board who tagged along with the group, but declined the blindfold himself.

Other Lions members are in the store's foyer throughout the door receiving donations and handing out leaflets about the issue.

Join Weldmar walkers to take on the Great Wall of China

LIMITED space is still available to join Weldmar supporters who will be walking the Great Wall of China for the charity's 2016 fundraisng adventure.

Following in the footsteps of the Sahara Desert Trek in 2013, the Icelandic Trek Challenge in 2014 and this August's Mont Blanc Trek, Weldmar are looking for members of the community to take part in their Great Wall of China Challenge in October 2016.

From October 15th to 23rd, the group will be trekking a remote section of the Great Wall. The five day trek will include walking through landscapes with distant green river valleys, mountain peaks and one of the great wonders of the world as the backdrop. The trip will be rounded off with a visit to two of Beijing's highlights, The Forbidden City and Tiananmen Square.

The price is a £320 self-funded registration fee, plus raising a minimum of £3,150 in sponsorship. This includes all meals on the trip, flights, all transfers and transport in China, accommodation in a three star hotel for two nights, tents on trek for four nights, first aid trained staff, trekking permits, support crew and English speaking guides.

Said challenge organiser Matt Smith: "The trip is graded as moderate to challenging as the terrain is quite hilly and undulating with steep sections to contend with both on and off the wall. The temperature will range between 15 to 25 degrees during the day. The bathroom facilities will be basic with no toilets on trek and no shower facilities – baby wipes will be your best friend."

Various training walks and social events will be organised in the lead up to the walk to meet the rest of the team before departure.

There will also be held from Weldmar with fundraising ideas and an offer to design and print all publicity materials and help organise events.

So far Weldmar's Overseas Challenges have brought in over £100,000, which has helped fund the care that Weldmar provides to patients and their loved ones across Dorset.

Matt said: "We are now known for our amazing Overseas Challenges, which have become a main income contributor each year…The majority of people that take part have never done anything like this before but come away with such a massive sense of achievement. Not only will you achieve an amazing challenge but also raise money for your local hospice at the same time - as well as leaving with lifelong friendships and forever memories."

For more information on the Great Wall of China Challenge, call Matt on 01305 261800 or visit www.weld-hospice.org.uk/china

● ALMOST 140 supporters boogied the night away at an 80's night at the Beehive, Bridport recently to raise over £1420 for the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust, Dorchester.

The evening was organised by Andy Loudon whose was so impressed with the care his sister Linda Payne received in the last days of her life at Weldmar last year, he vowed to raise money for the charity.

Andy said: "It was a great success. I would like to thank everyone who attended, and all those that donated to the raffle. I have raised almost £4,000 in the 18 months I have been fundraising which is down to the generosity of the local people."

Such was the success, he is thinking of arranging another 80's night for New Year's Eve, and would like to receive feedback on the idea via facebook.

A weekly column throughout October

Trying out everything B! HEALTH&FITNESS has to offer!

AFTER a great first week I was back at the gym after work on Monday feeling great and looking forward to my next couple of sessions. Again I was struck with how much space there was considering it was Monday night and probably the most popular time for people to train. There were no issues with having to wait for any equipment at all, you can just get on with your workout; it really does make a huge difference.

On Monday night Duncan had me focused on a full body session doing the same as I had done on Saturday but with less reps on heavier weights. It was a totally different feeling and I did find certain bits harder than others. As it was a full body workout I lifted weights using both the upper and lower body. Despite my previous knee injury my legs feel relatively strong, which is the total opposite to my upper body. I particularly struggled with the chest press and found it really hard to squeeze out the last few reps, but Duncan gave me plenty of encouragement and helped me through. He was always on hand to give me pointers with my technique as I often found myself adjusting without realising and making things harder than they should be.

I've quickly realized how important it is to use the correct techniques, especially when weight training and that is where I feel the B! Health & Fitness team really makes a difference. They are all really friendly and get to know all their members on a personal level so you don't feel stupid or intimidated having to ask for help. Even if you don't ask they are always there to give you pointers making sure you're not going to injure yourself by lifting in the wrong way.

Tuesday night was the one I'd really been looking forward to, as it was a golf specific session focusing on exercises that will strengthen my golf game. The session was again totally different from what I'd done up to now with a lot of focus on flexibility but also working on my core strength. Everything I did was a lot more controlled and I could really feel how it was using the muscles that help me generate power with my golf swing.

Duncan also showed me a few exercises with a new piece of equipment they have, which is called an RMT club. I instantly felt comfortable as you can hold it similar to a golf club and work the specific muscle groups you use in the golf swing. The club is weighted and doing some more vigorous exercises with it certainly got the heart pumping.

It was a brilliant session that I really enjoyed. It's great to know that the team can structure you a programme based entirely on the areas you want to work on, especially if you play a specific sport. Duncan told me how they have recently created a programme for a local gig rower and also a cricket bowler. It gives a real difference to your workout and it certainly gave me extra motivation knowing it would directly help my golf game. I want to thank Duncan for putting that together for me and I look forward to developing more on that in the future.

That was my last session for the week, as I write this I'm about to head to Barcelona on a stag do for the weekend! Not the best thing for a fit and healthy lifestyle but from time to time we all have the odd slip up! However it has left me feeling almost frustrated that I now can't train until Monday, I'm really enjoying working out and in this short time it's already making me feel so much better about myself. I'm coming back to a personal training session with Craig on Monday, after a heavy weekend away with the boys it could be interesting!

WESTFIELD Arts College students on the new base at Weymouth College

Westfield @ Weymouth College helps students with transition

WESTFIELD Arts College is working with Weymouth College to offer its students a base for them at the College.

The move is designed to help with the transition between school and college.

The new partnership sees Westfield provide a base for its students at the Weymouth College main campus on Cranford Avenue.

Andrew Penman, headteacher at Westfield Arts College said: "We have been wondering for some time how best to provide for our sixth form students who are ready for the next stage in their education – an age appropriate college environment. Often they find the transition between school and college a difficult time. We feel that this new college base, Westfield@Weymouth College, will offer our students the best of both worlds – a gradual introduction to college life from the security of a Westfield base."

Westfield@Weymouth College moved into their new dedicated base at the beginning of the school term and have found the experience to have been positive both for the students and staff.

Added Mr Penman: "Everyone involved in the project from the Westfield side has been thrilled by how quickly we have been able to build such an easy and productive working relationship with the Weymouth College staff. We have been very warmly welcomed and we can see lots of ways in which our partnership could develop in the future. "

Nigel Evans, Interim Principal at Weymouth College said: "We are delighted to launch this new joint facility which will give a real opportunity for Westfield students to progress onto mainstream college courses and into employment. This in turn will maximize their opportunities and life chances into the future. Both Andrew and myself are thrilled with this new development, as are governors, staff and students. The fact that two different institutions can work so effectively together for the benefit of local students is a real testament to our common desire to provide outstanding provision to the local community."

Playgarden members pay tribute to Jack

By Harry Walton
hdswalton@yahoo.co.uk

MORE than 80 local people and friends of Chapelhay Community Playgarden in Weymouth gathered to harvest their potatoes.

They feasted on delicious food and also paid tribute to a star of the community, Jack Palmer, who recently passed away.

The group traditionally plants their potatoes in spring and the children dig them up in October, peel and chip them with a little help from the adults before Pete Chen from the Ocean Hay takeaway fries them up and brings them back as chips.

This year was extra special as the group was joined by the Friendly Food Club which served up delicious home-made curry, chilli and quiche, and even organised a soup guessing competition, to promote cookery workshops they will be running locally.

Event organiser and playgarden chairman Clare Sutton said: "The kids just love this event and it's always so exciting seeing how many potatoes there will be and then turning into something we can actually eat. From earth to plate in 60 minutes - it's such a thrill!"

The group marked the passing of committee member Mr Palmer with speeches from Clare and Jack's son Matt. A beautiful olive tree was planted, donations of more than £150 having rolled in over recent weeks for the tree to show just how much everyone loved Jack.

Clare said: "Jack was just the funniest, warmest and kindest man and always such a joy to be around. It was fantastic that over 20 members of his family, including his wonderful wife Audrey and their five children, were able to join us. And the salads and cakes they brought were extraordinary!".

With Clare and others, Jack and Audrey were founder members of the project.

Clare said: "Jack was the face of the garden, always there pottering about when the rest of us had gone home. He would have enjoyed today so much. We will miss him hugely."

For further information on the playgarden, contact Clare Sutton on clare.sutton@zen.co.uk.

Thrill and spills on the beach at Weymouth

EGGING them on

Word and photos by Trevor Bevins

THERE were thrills and spills on Weymouth's golden sands at the weekend.

Replacing sedate donkey rides were more than 200 gas-guzzling scramble bikes churning up the beach – to the delight of spectators.

The event produced a number of spectacular falls – but, luckily, few serious injuries.

At one point there were fears that the event might have to be curtailed after stormy seas overnight and on Saturday brought in tons of weed. Weymouth and Portland Lions were told they could not move the weed but an inspection team decided that the riders could go ahead after a few test runs.

Over the years the event, organised by Weymouth Lions and the Purbeck Motocross Club, has raised around £60,000 for various charities.

Motorcycle Club chair Alf Stern says the event, now in its 31st year, is something he looks forward to every year.

"It's the area's biggest motocross event, run by the area's smallest club – we only have eight members, but yet the event gets bigger every year," said Mr Stern."

Entry fees from riders, bring in around £1,500 each year, with a bucket collection and stall income adding a similar amount.

Sponsorship from the Waterside Holiday Group, Imago Developments Ltd and Weymouth Business Improvement District, means that Saturday's attractions included the Jamie Squibb Freestyle FMX Stunt Display Team.

Also entertaining the crowds this year, for what he says will be the last time, was Gorillaman, on his quadbike.

There was also the chance to ride on the 'Bartlett's Beach Buggy' and Land Rover with ride donations going to the Lions funds.

NEWS in brief . . .

THE name of Dorset Police is being used in one of the latest scams to hit the county.

Members of the public and businesses across Dorset have received calls from withheld numbers – with the caller claiming to be phoning from Dorset Police offering advertising in Dorset Police magazines and publications.

"Dorset Police very rarely calls local businesses to discuss advertising opportunities, but when we do we will provide the caller with a name, contact telephone number and a collar number," said a Force spokesman.

"Dorset Police will never call local businesses or members of the public demanding money for advertising. On the rare occasions that businesses advertise with Dorset Police, they will always receive an official invoice."

MORE than 850 people received police cautions in Dorset last year – rather than be brought before the courts.

They included 390 for violence against the person, 17 for sex offences, 117 for theft and 73 for criminal damage.

Jan Steadman, Dorset Police's Head of Criminal Justice, said: "The use of out of court disposals is one of a number of options that Dorset Police employs to bring offenders to justice and resolve crimes. We follow the national guidance and our aim is to always use OoCD appropriately.

"We will continue with our good practice and will implement the recommended improvements."

CUSTOMERS at the Monmouth Road Londis shop in Dorchester have contributed £1,000 in loose change to the Fortuneswell Cancer Trust. The charity supports cancer patients at Dorset County Hospital. Pictured are Sue Thompson, honorary secretary of the Trust who received the donation from store manager Ian Jones and thanked customers who had contributed.

Students standing up to cancer

STUDENTS and staff at The Thomas Hardye School in Dorchester are joining forces to Stand Up To Cancer this week to raise funds for life-saving research.

The initiative is led by 6th form students at the Coburg Road school.

On Tuesday, October 20th a group of students will collect sponsorship by standing up for the entire day.

Other students and staff will be taking part in a range of fundraising activities including bake sales, and selling badges, all in aid of Stand Up To Cancer.

"We're so proud that our students will be joining an army of fundraisers across the UK in helping to raise funds for Stand Up To Cancer. The whole school will be taking part in the fundraising activities so it will be a real team effort and we hope to raise as much money as possible for such an important cause," said a school spokesperson.

"Most of us know someone who has been touched by cancer and we all have our special reasons for taking part."

Banknote with hidden naughty word

A BANKNOTE from the Seychelles in which the word sex' was secretly hidden in the design will go on sale in Dorchester this week.

The 50 rupee note issued between 1968 and 1973 features Queen Elizabeth and within the palm trees by her head is the naughty word.

Some believe the insult was added because at the time the Seychelles was trying to gain independence from Britain.

It has been suggested that it was done by a rogue engraver who tweaked the original design of the currency.

There are also those who believe it was just an unfortunate error although another note in the series appears to carry the word 'scum', implying it was deliberate.

Today 50 rupees is worth about £2.50, but the note that is to go under the hammer at Duke's of Dorchester on October 15th has an estimate of £200.

Timothy Medhurst, from the saleroom, said: "This is a very collectable item for obvious reasons.

"Amazingly the added message wasn't noticed – or was perhaps never mentioned – until after it stopped being printed.

"There are various theories about how the word came to be included. Many think the engraver Brian Fox of Bradbury & Wilkinson, the printers, put it in.

"It is an otherwise attractive note but would have disappeared into obscurity if it had not been for its secret message.

"Collectors are always keen to have one and this is in good condition and was consigned by a collector.

"It is part of our October sale which will see a huge variety of notes, coins, medals and other related items go under the hammer."

Other items in the sale include a desk blotter which once belonging to the Duke of Wellington which is expected to fetch up to £2,000 and a cigar butt smoked by Winston Churchill while he was in Middlesex Hospital.

Gearing up for Octoberfest

OVER 70 different barrels of real ale from all over the South West will be featured at the Campaign for Real Ale's (CAMRA) Weymouth autumn beer festival on Friday 16th and Saturday 17th in the Ocean Room at Weymouth Pavilion.

The four sessions are expected to attract 1,500 drinkers – running from 11am to 3.30pm and 6pm to 11.30pm on Friday and Saturday.

Tickets cost £5 for Friday and Saturday evenings; £4 for Saturday lunchtime and £3 for Friday lunchtime. They are being sold by West Dorset CAMRA online at www.camrawdorset.org.uk/Octoberfest.htm or from The Boot, The Globe and Charlbury Food & Wine in Weymouth and the Blue Raddle at Dorchester. The Royal Portland Arms and the George at Portland also have tickets, as well as the Weymouth Pavilion box.

"This will be our fifth October beer festival at the Ocean Room and some CAMRA members will come long distances to enjoy Weymouth," said CAMRA spokesman Michel Hooper-Immins.

"Many will stay for the weekend as their families shop in the town- a valuable out-of-season economic boost for Weymouth.

"In addition, many festivalgoers will converge on the Ocean Room from all parts of Dorset, including CAMRA members from other branches all around the South and South West.

"The Ocean Room provides a superb venue for a beer festival," said West Dorset CAMRA Chairman Dave Harris.

"Not only does it have the space to allow plenty of seating, but there's the beautiful view of Weymouth Bay right outside the big windows. The festival will feature the Dorset Brewing Co. to celebrate their 20 years in brewing, which started in Weymouth in 1995 and is now based in Crossways."

West Dorset CAMRA's October beer festival was held for eight years at Brewer's Quay, until closure of the Hope Square attraction in early 2011 forced a move.

Moving to the Ocean Room in 2011 meant more real ale drinkers could be accommodated and last year almost all 1500 tickets were sold for the event, spread over two days. There will again be live music only on Saturday evening.

Some 70 firkins of real ale will be on tap from many different breweries, amounting to 5040 pints of beer. Around a dozen ciders and perries complete the choice.

Committee member Vanessa Butler said: "This is a chance for us to promote the work that we do in Lodmoor Country Park while giving families an opportunity to buy and sell all sorts of good quality children's items in the run-up to Christmas."

Tables cost £5 to book and entry will be free. Refreshments with home-made cakes will be on sale and children can enjoy free art and craft activities while parents browse. There is limited on-site parking.

With these wings ... I thee wed

RYAN Ashworth, the Riviera Hotel's resident falconer

A WEYMOUTH hotel is offering a winged delivery service for wedding ceremonies.

The Riviera Hotel is offering the services of a Harris Hawk, or Barn Owl, to fly the rings to the best man at civil ceremonies.

Ryan Ashworth, the Riviera Hotel's resident falconer , came up with the idea.

"I've been a falconer for a number of years now and I've used my birds for various duties around the hotel before. These include shows, giving guests photo opportunities and sending them up to deter seagulls from nesting in our iconic tower.

"Recently I got together with our weddings department and we came up with this amazing way for the rings to be delivered at a ceremony. This involves the bird flying from my fist at the back of the venue along the aisle and onto the best man's fist. He then takes the rings from the bird's feet and hands them to the registrar."

He added: "It's something that has been done in other places but I'm not aware of it being available here in Dorset.

"I have trained the birds to do this and they don't suffer in anyway. They are used to people and used to flying to the fist and, to be honest, they actually enjoy it."

Weddings manager, Liz Durden, said: "We have only just started promoting the service and already it's proving really popular.

"People are always looking for something a little bit different and spectacular and this ticks both of those boxes.

"Weddings are all about being as memorable as possible and you certainly won't forget that moment when a bird of prey comes soaring down the aisle. And what's nice is that Ryan is always happy to attend the photograph shoots and the reception which means everyone gets the chance to take some amazing pictures."

Magna rebuild offices around the existing ones

MAGNA Housing staff at their new building on the 'old' Poundbury site

TRADE supervisor Selena Parsons and the trade team, now all housed in the same offices

By Trevor Bevins
trevorbevins@gmail.com

A DORCHESTER-based housing association has moved into new offices on the site of their old repairs building. Prior to that the building was once a meat factory.

Magna Housing moved out of the site on Railway Triangle Industrial Estate in Dorchester over a year ago and since then has redeveloped the old building.

Yogesh Vadgama, head of Magna's technical services department, was responsible for the project. He said: "The old building leaked and was desperately in need of work, but bits of it were ok. So we stripped off all the external fabric of the building and re-built around the existing structure.

"It's very important that we use our resources, including money, wisely and carefully, giving the best value for money we can. We decided not to move into brand new offices, but to redevelop our old office site.

"Doing this cost us less money, so we have more money to spend on looking after our tenants and providing a good maintenance and repairs service."

Graham Colls, group chief executive, who officially opened the building, said: "We celebrated our 25th anniversary last year and we plan to be here to celebrate our 50th. This new building goes a long way to making sure that we have offices that are fit for purpose and will see us through those next 25 years."

Selena Parsons, trade supervisor, said: "The offices are really lovely and modern. But best of all, we are all in one building together and it makes it much easier to work with other departments and provide the best service possible for our residents."

Get your greenhouse winter-ready

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

THE first frosts have already arrived in parts of the UK, which is your sign to get tender plants under cover before they succumb to the ravages of winter.

If you haven't already done so, check your greenhouse heater's working, that automatic vent openers are still operating, and clear out cucumbers, peppers, aubergine and chilli plants which have been fully harvested.

As the weather turns cooler, close up the greenhouse in the early afternoon to trap heat, which will help to ripen indoor fruit. Keep dampness to a minimum and ventilate when possible to move air around the plants and keep them healthy.

If you have permanent fruit growing in your greenhouse borders, work in organic matter such as compost or well-rotted manure around them.

Bring in tender plants including cannas and bananas in pots, before the frost damages the leaves, as well as shrubs including azaleas, camellias and daphnes for early spring flowers.

There's still time to sow Californian poppy, pansies, cornflowers and sweet peas, and plant bulbs for spring colour.

Linda Lane, managing director of family firm Griffin Glasshouses, says key tasks should focus on letting in light, eliminating disease and controlling bugs and pests.

Autumn is a great time to have a good clear-out as you will get rid of pests which might otherwise overwinter in the warmer environment.

"It is essential to keep glasshouses clean and healthy," she says. "They should not be used to store garden tools, pots, old plant labels and seed boxes as they can harbour pests and diseases. Make sure the glass on both the inside and out is regularly cleaned to maximise the short daylight and sunshine hours we have in the winter."

Use a proprietary glass cleaner if the panes are particularly dirty, otherwise just plain water, making sure it doesn't drop on to the leaves of the plants. She advises against using a pressure washer unless it's a warm day when plants can be taken outside.

"Keep pathways and staging clean and, if necessary, wash over with a non-toxic disinfectant. Repair broken glass because draughts can cause immediate damage in cold weather."

Where panes overlap, use an old lolly stick or plant label to ease out the dirt, then give the area a gentle slosh with water to remove it completely. Use a scrubbing brush to wash down shelves and staging, making sure you do the underside as well as the top.

It may be too late in the season to repaint or treat wooden greenhouses, but all metal supports should be washed down, inside and out, again ensuring no spillage onto the plants.

You may need to put up insulation to ensure overnight temperatures are kept as high as possible inside the greenhouse, saving money on heating bills.

"Finally, our changing weather patterns suggest we are going to experience a lot more torrential rain, so make sure glasshouse guttering, and other rain harvesting facilities, are working efficiently and are clean.

"On warmer, sunny days, do make sure the glasshouse is ventilated, but remember to close up at night," warns Lane.

BEST OF THE BUNCH - Miscanthus

Ornamental grasses come into their own at this time of year and miscanthus is among the best, forming a large clump of arching mid green leaves - and in autumn upright stems appear bearing silvery flowerheads. It grows best in full sun in fairly fertile, moist but well-drained soil. The flowerheads can be left to create movement and structure in winter but should be cut down to ground level in early spring. Established clumps can be divided to increase stock in spring. Good varieties include M. sinensis 'Silberfeder'.and 'Grosse Fontaine', also known as 'Big Fountain', which grows to 2m (6ft). These grasses are popular for prairie and gravel planting and some, such as 'Undine', have good orange autumn colour.

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT - Ripening tomatoes

Even if your outdoor tomatoes are green, you'll have to bring them in now to avoid them being hit by frost. But there are ways of ripening tomatoes once they've been picked. If you have cherry tomatoes, for instance, you can cut trusses of them and hang them in an airy place such as the kitchen or a potting shed for them to ripen. Another good way is to put a few green tomatoes in a sealed jar or brown paper bag with a banana. Bananas emit ethylene gas, which encourage tomatoes to ripen. The cooler the storage area, the longer it will take for tomatoes to ripen, but in a normal household situation, they should ripen within two weeks. If you have immature green tomatoes which simply aren't going to ripen, consider making a chutney or green tomato relish with them.

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

- Cut the grass if the weather remains warm and dry, and trim the edges.
- Cut down all dead flower stems on herbaceous perennials and tidy borders to remove foliage and plant remains, compost this material. Leave late-flowering perennials.
- Sow a row of hardy peas and cover with cloches. Broad beans can also be sown now.
- Remove old vegetable crops, clear the ground and dig compost or manure into the soil. Leave heavy soil rough-dug so frost can penetrate to help break it down.
- Lift dahlia tubers when the foliage has been blackened by frost.
- Throw a net over a branch bearing holly berries to stop the birds pecking at them.
- Bring potted late-flowering chrysanthemums under glass before frost strikes
- Wrap grease bands around the trunks of apple, plum and cherry trees to catch the winter moth as she climbs to lay her eggs.
- Rake and scarify lawns to remove thatch and other debris.
- Continue to take hardwood cuttings of roses and shrubs like cornus, buddleia and ribes.-

Sherborne Turf

ESTABLISHED for over 40 years, Sherborne Turf is situated in the picturesque village of Trent in Dorset, where we have around 150 acres of quality farmland dedicated to the production of our Trent Turf. Grown without netting, we use a blend of grasses developed over the years that will knit together to form a firm base, and leave our turf in the ground for 18 months before harvesting. It is then freshly cut to order and delivered using our own vehicles. While the trade standard for delivery is 'kerb-side', we realise that this is not always practical for our customers, and so our experienced drivers always endeavour to place the items as conveniently as possible for you, a service which is often not provided by other companies.

Although our core business is turf production, we also supply a full range of locally sourced topsoil, compost, bark and mulch. Other essential garden items include fertiliser, irrigation equipment, landscape accessories, and a full range of seed mixes to grow wildflowers and grasses for companion sowing.

Our delivery vehicles include an artic with removable forklift, a 6-wheel rigid crane lorry, and a pick up truck with trailer. We also have access to a wide range of vehicles for bulk loads of topsoil, compost and bark.

All of the staff here at Sherborne Turf have experience of the products we sell, and are happy to discuss any aspect of your garden project. Our website www.sherborneturf.co.uk contains detailed information, practical advice, and even has an interactive calculator. We are also on Facebook and Twitter, or why not give us a call on 01935 850388.

Glorious Gardens

A prickly subject

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

▲ The Hedgehog hole in the Hedgehog Street show garden at RHS Hampton Court Palace Flower Show 2014.

Hedgehog populations are in trouble. They've declined by 30% in the last 10 years alone and there are now thought to be fewer than a million left in the UK, according to the RHS.

So, what can gardeners do about it? This year, the RHS and The Wildlife Trusts are teaming up with the campaign Hedgehog Street during Wild About Gardens Week to encourage us to make gardens, schools and community spaces hedgehog-friendly.

"Improving your gardens for invertebrate groups will encourage hedgehogs into the garden, as insects, slugs, snails and earthworms are the hedgehog's natural food source," says Helen Bostock, RHS senior horticultural adviser.

Hedgehogs are not herbivores, so will not feast on leaves, flowers or other plant matter, but they will feed on the pollinating insects and other species which are attracted to particular plants.

As well as feeding on slugs and snails, hedgehogs also eat groups of beetles, caterpillars, earthworms and even birds' eggs, as well as meat-based dog and cat food, or dry hedgehog food available from garden centres and online.

"There's going to be an indirect benefit when it comes to plant choice," says Bostock. "If you increase invertebrates you will encourage the hedgehogs' natural food sources."

At this time of year, just before hibernation, good pollinating plants including asters, dahlias, Japanese anemones, sedums and Verbena bonariensis will all encourage just the type of invertebrates hedgehogs need to get them through the winter.

At other times of the year, a mix of flower shapes will attract a variety of insects, from tall foxgloves, to climbing honeysuckles, ornamental alliums, salvias, single flowered roses and herbs, including rosemary and chives.

Bear in mind that hedgehogs only have short legs and don't do well on steep inclines, she says.

"Remove potential hazards. Any steep sides on ponds can lead to hedgehogs drowning. Create a gentle ramp to allow them easy access in and out of the water.

"Check bonfire piles before you light them, as hedgehogs may be hiding underneath them and be careful when strimming long grass, where they may be found. Also, don't leave litter or items like fruit cage netting loose for hedgehogs to get caught up in. Open drains and trenches can also cause problems."

Wild About Gardens Week will also be encouraging people to create 13cm x 13cm hedgehog holes in fences, walls and other barriers to allow these creatures to access different gardens for food and shelter.

"Solid boundaries are problematic for hedgehogs," says Bostock. "Adults travel between 1-2km per night and need that space to forage."

Gardeners should not cut everything back as soon as late autumn arrives, she says. Leave some stems standing to provide effective cover and if you want to buy or make hedgehog shelters, make sure they are sturdy and that their holes are big enough for access, and place them in a quiet spot with natural cover such as leaves, so that rain doesn't flood the shelter.

To illustrate the point, RHS Harlow Carr in Yorkshire is launching three gardens which are each 5m x 5m - one contemporary, one formal and the other wild - with small holes in the boundaries to allow hedgehog access, featuring planting which will attract invertebrates and hedgehog shelters.

Leafy plants including hostas, which provide both cover and attract slugs and snails, which are food for hedgehogs, are featured in the gardens, as are willow shelters, short grasses and bare soil, where they can forage for worms.

:: Wild About Gardens Week runs from October 26 to November 1. For details go to www.wildaboutgardensweek.org.uk/events

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT - Shallots

Shallots are often seen as the up-market relative of onions, having a milder flavour and looking and tasting delicious whole in casseroles, as well as being perfect for pickling. Yet they are as easy to grow as regular onions. You buy sets in February and March, planting them out with a trowel so they are just covered by soil, spacing them 20cm (8in) apart in rows 30cm (12in) apart. The area needs to be kept weed-free and you'll need to water them in periods of dry weather. Havest them when the leaves turn yellow in July or August, lift and then dry them in the sun, spreading them in layers in a frostproof shed. Good varieties include 'Griselle' and 'Golden Gourmet'.

BEST OF THE BUNCH - Liriope

This underrated perennial provides a dense evergreen clump of strap-shaped leaves all year round, but its moment of glory comes in autumn when striking violet flowers appear. They combine well with bright pink Nerine bowdenii or colchicums, or alternatively establish clumps between spring-flowering shrubs, where their leaves will add year-round interest. Liriope muscari, a reliable tough plant, prefers neutral to acid soil and can withstand drought, seaside winds and shade. However, they do flower best in sun. Many have variegated foliage. White-flowered types include 'Monroe White', which grows to 25cm (10in). In spring, cut down old leaves to the ground to encourage fresh new growth.

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

- Cut seedheads of Acanthus spinosus, teasel and globe artichokes to dry and use for decoration in the home in winter
- Lift, divide and replant older clumps of perennials such as crocosmia, hardy geraniums and hostas
- Lift canna lilies, which can be treated as tender perennials, trimmed and potted into peat-free compost, stored in a frost-free place where it's cool and dry
- Continue to plant spring-flowering bulbs
- Pot up half-hardy fuchsias and take them under cover if necessary, keeping them cool and dry but don't let them dry out completely
- Begin winter digging once the ground has been cleared, particularly if you have heavy clay soil, which benefits from being broken up and exposed to winter weather
- Pick the last of the runner beans and, if they are not too large, freeze them
- Cover bare ground with polythene to protect the soil from winter rain
- Remove old yellowing leaves on Brussels sprouts and other winter brassicas as they develop
- Prepare the ground for new fruit trees, digging over the area and incorporating plenty of organic matter.

Going gold at the Colonial Restaurant

THE Colonial Restaurant at Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens has been given a gold award by judges for Taste of the West, who said it was a "top notch" café.

The restaurant was awarded the top rating in the café and tearoom category for being: "A very good café that will surprise and delight visitors to the gardens."

The judges admitted that they couldn't remember eating a better example of a bread and butter pudding!

They added: "We had a delightful meal – generous portions of fresh well-cooked and well-presented food. Main course plates were a little small for the amount of food."

Catering manager Robert Aldam said: "We are delighted to have won a gold in the Taste of the West awards.

"As a tourist attraction café I had thought that only more specialised cafes would receive the top prize, but through the hard work of my ladies out front and my chefs in the kitchen, we are developing our menu year on year and we have been awarded for it."

And that bread and butter pudding? "It's a family recipe handed down to our head chef Peter Bulman by his mother," said Robert.

Abbotsbury Tourism General Manager John Houston added: "We are very pleased and proud of what our catering team have achieved. We are always striving to raise our standards and make sure all our visitors have a really memorable experience – and that includes a meal or snack in the restaurant.

"As a seasonal treat, guests who book in to enjoy our Christmas lunch menu will also get free entry to the gardens."

The Taste of the West Awards programme promotes and supports the South West food and drink industry. In 2015 judges evaluated almost 1,000 products and more than 300 hospitality and retail establishment entries.

A magical tour through the gardens

ABBOTSBURY Subtropical Gardens will set the nights alight with their evening illuminations from this Thursday, October 15th.

For youngsters there will be extra Halloween fun as the three Family Fright Nights will encourage young visitors to dress up from Thursday, October 29th October to Saturday 31st.

Floodlights will illuminate the garden paths on a 45-minute route around the 'Long Walk', the lily ponds and other areas. This year, for the first time, those who dare can enter the Maze of Terror, when a huge haunted house arrives in the gardens. There will also be a return of the laser rave, a creepy-crawlies tent, the scary scars workshop, spooky face-painting and ghastly entertainers.

General manager John Houston said: "The gardens take on a completely different, magical atmosphere when they are lit up.

"The autumn foliage is even more spectacular when it is bathed in coloured light and the flickering glow of candles – it truly is enchanting."

The walk around the garden has a shorter route, which is suitable for wheelchairs. It is advisable to wear sensible footwear and bring a torch.

The illuminations run from dusk to 8.30pm every day from Thursday 15th to Sunday, November 1st although the switch-on night, this Thursday, is already sold out.

For further information and to buy tickets please ring the Abbotsbury Tourism office on (01305) 871130 or visit www.abbotsburygardens.co.uk

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

A gesture of goodwill?

CHRISTMAS parking has been a divisive issue for years.

The latest twist has an approach which proposes that drivers pay for one hour from 2pm onwards and get the rest of their stay for free.

You've no doubt heard of Buy One Get One Free or BOGOF for short.

Well the acronym for this parking promotion is Buy One Get Better Retail Use Shopping Here....or BOGBRUSH for short.

The aim of BOGBRUSH is to encourage tourism during the winter months with a discounted December parking initiative led by Weymouth Business Improvement District.

It would apply to council car parks and is seen as a compromise between retaining charges and those who wanted to make parking free.

It is also being hailed as "a gesture of goodwill" at a time of year renowned for its jollity, warm feelings and general "Ho! Ho! Ho!".

It remains to be seen whether this idea will see shoppers pour in to Weymouth at a time of day research shows that people usually avoid the place in droves.

■ THIS week's Growing Old Disgracefully spot looks at sunbathing and whether old people should cover up.

Of course they should! Who ever heard of us getting prolonged periods of sunshine in summer? It is always in autumn or winter when it is a lot colder so by all means enjoy the sunshine but you'll probably need a nice cardy to stay warm as well.

It has nothing to do with exposing old flesh. Goosebumps look the same whether you are nineteen or 90.

So get out that lovely three-armed pullover that Ethel knitted and get yourself down to the seafront for some nice basking by the beach.

There will be plenty of rainy days to frustrate getting a tan so grab any sun while you can.

Perhaps it's time we all paid attention

I HAVE just been given a splendid potential 140th birthday present by the council which has announced plans to protect us all from flooding up to the year 2094.

By then I hope medical science has advanced enough that I not only look 40 years younger but have been able to get rid of that annoying ache in my right shoulder.

One thing medical science can't do is protect Weymouth from flooding caused by rising sea levels and increased extreme weather incidents including river flooding caused by heavy rain.

That task lies with the engineers, so the council has announced proposals which could spend more than £100 million over the next 80 years to 2094, so if we can't all sleep safe in our beds then at least we can sleep dry.

Those ideas include proposals for a new tidal barrier, new harbour walls and improved Esplanade sea defences.

Ironically it was almost 20 years ago that I wrote a special feature about the flooding threat to Weymouth based on information supplied to me by the United Nations.

What was felt then was that potential climate change could trigger sea level rises which could not just threaten previously safe areas but overwhelm those already considered at risk.

OK, none of us has drowned just yet, but tides in Weymouth are noticeably higher and further into town than they were in the mid-1990s and that is just over a 20-year period. How much deeper and more penetrating are they going to be in another 79 years never mind how much more severe is our weather going to be?

Remember when recent existing harbour wall upgrades were made? Remember the vociferous concerns about how Weymouth could become "a walled town" with only stone ramparts to keep the water at bay?

Well those wall heightening and other measures are already deemed inadequate.

In their place we have proposals for new – and higher – harbour walls as well as a new tidal barrier.

And in addition to that we have the first serious considerations for flood defences along the Esplanade which can only involve a wall of some description since you can't barrier-off the whole of Weymouth Bay.

It wasn't that many years ago when I stood on the seafront in storm conditions and watched an angry sea devastate beach cabins before hurling itself right across the Esplanade's promenade and road to crash into buildings on the landward side.

That was a rare occurrence but one experts fear may soon become much more commonplace.

Even the UN document I found 20 years ago was talking about floodwater a metre deep in parts of the town centre within a century. We've still got 80 years to go to reach that scenario yet already it is being updated.

Just this summer international climate experts warned that the world's sea levels could be six metres higher by the year 2100 with 150 million people currently living on land which will either be submerged or facing chronic flooding by the turn of the century.

So by all means be sceptical, by all means scoff a little, but just remember this.

Politicians don't like spending money on this sort of thing because it doesn't generate anything except safety.

If they are now actively considering scenarios to do the very thing they don't like doing then that attitude alone should lend some credence to the climate experts' claims.

Personally I'm already making plans. I live on a hill, but in 79 years time there could be a beach at the bottom of my garden and that's where I'm holding my 140th birthday party. You're welcome to attend. Just bring a bottle.

IT'S TIME TO PARTY – PUNJABI STYLE!

Dorchester Festival favourites RSVP return with their infectious bhangra beats

2014 DORCHESTER FESTIVAL headliners RSVP are back for another fantastic, energetic night of Bhangra. With more than ten Glastonbury and three WOMAD appearances under their belt they have spearheaded the renaissance of live Bhangra in the UK, opening doors for other artists and introducing Bhangra to mainstream audiences for the first time.

Every show comes with an introduction to Bhangra dance - everyone's included with RSVP's emphasis on partying Punjabi style, and Dorchester Arts are excited to welcome them back to perform at the Corn Exchange on Saturday, October 24th at 8pm.

With musicians drawn from one family across two generations, RSVP are wholly rooted in an authentic living tradition, yet unafraid to innovate, this is the ultimate celebratory Indian music.

The roots of RSVP started when bandleader Dildar was a child. He was well known as a child performer, singing at family gathering and community events.

This was taken further when he joined the family band called 'Dil Khush' (happy hearts) in 1982. This band played successfully in the UK, when bands like Alaap, DCS and Malkit Singh did not even exist.

RSVP as the band was started in the early 90's with Dildar recruiting Chris Horn (a talented studio engineer), his cousin Rajoo (playing Dholak) and his brother Judge (who had to learn the bass from scratch). The band has gone through many changes since then, but the RSVP you see now was produced when Puggy (Drums), Sarah (Violin/Accordion/Flute), Mark (Guitar) and Jeevan (Percussion) came together.

Bhangra is the traditional folk music of the Punjab region of India. Brought to the UK by the Punjabi diaspora, it has absorbed many elements from contemporary popular music to reinvent itself. As part of this progression it strayed far from the live arena to become a club and dj style built from synths and samples. RSVP have made it their mission to make it a music performed live again – to let it breathe and live once more – and to take it back to the festivals and parties where it was originally created.

Ahead of the evening gig in Dorchester, the band will also be holding a bhangra workshop for young people from the local area. Supported by the Dorset Music Service and presented by Dorchester's POP Club youth music group, this workshop is an amazing insight into the world of Bhangra instruments, music & movement for those under 18 years old. Come and find out how this style of music is put together and even have a chance to play alongside the musicians during the workshop.

RSVP perform at Dorchester Corn Exchange, High East Street DT1 1HF on Saturday, October 24th at 8pm (U18s Workshop is at 11:30am)

Tickets are £10 or £8 members and concession, and are available from the box office 01305 266 926 or from the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

BRITISH BLUES AWARD WINNER CHANTEL MCGREGOR TO PLAY AT BRIDPORT ARTS CENTRE

IMAGINE the tone of Robin Trower, the inspiration of Hendrix, the influence of Stevie Ray Vaughan, the energy of Bonamassa, the intensity of Walter Trout, the haunting vocal of Stevie Nicks all rolled into one… and you have Chantel, one of the most exciting rock-blues musicians in the UK. Chantel has won several awards, including British Blues Award Guitarist of the Year 2014 and Female Vocalist of the Year 2013.

Chantel's performance will be part of her 28-day Lose Control Tour. She will perform ten new songs that not only salute contemporary rock, but shows her gradual transition from conventional Blues to a harder, bigger and bolder rock sound with progressive influences.

Chantel's highly anticipated new album, Lose Control, was released on October 9th and sees her channelling her guitar playing and songwriting into an exciting pantheon of rock crescendos and riffs.

Chantel McGregor plays at Bridport Arts Centre on Wednesday, October 28th, at 7.30pm. Tickets are £14, and are available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 427183

Getting Ready For Winter

A 4 page guide for getting your home and vehicle ready for the Winter months in East Devon, West Dorset & South Somerset

O'brien Roofing & Leadwork Ltd

When was the last time you had your roof & gutters checked?

IF, like most people, you can't remember, then now might be the time to get around to it.

Even though they're "out of sight and out of mind" for the majority of the time, your roof & gutters actually play a huge role in the structural integrity of your house, and keeping them clean is a great way to avoid the potentially costly expense of repairs.

Gutters have one job: to guide rainwater off your roof and straight down the drain. Despite their importance, not only could you end up with structural damage, the resulting damp can cause health issues for you and your family.

Most jobs around the exterior of your house require high access and with an increased emphasis on safety, and more stringent government laws regarding Working at Height Regulations depicted by the HSE, we have all the right equipment to carry out these works. In 2012 we purchased a 20 meter High Access Cherry Picker and a 12 meter Telehandler. Both of which operators are available for hire with one of our fully trained operatives. Every roofing job presents the challenge of accessing the work area safely. In addition to this, we have recently expanded our company to include a new scaffolding division for the jobs too big for the cherry picker. After working closely over the past two years with a local scaffold firm, O'Brien's have now incorporated them under their own umbrella. With over 20 years' experience and trained to an advanced level, Daniel's cousin, Peter Lewis has joined the team to run the division, and we are pleased to be able to offer the facility of our own scaffolding system. This not only saves you money but also our highly trained and experienced team can erect and dismantle scaffold to time scales that suit your needs and to a high standard. We issue a completion certificate as well as a Scaff Tagg for each completed scaffold.

The Bridport Open Book 2015

LOVE READING? Bridport Arts Centre are preparing for the 2015 Bridport Open Book. This year's celebration of reading and writing will take place from October 13th-18th. There will be an eclectic mix of readings, film, music and workshops; the festival will climax with a 50th anniversary celebration of the year 1965.

The week of activities opens on Tuesday, October 13th with the Bridport Story Slam. The exciting event sees local writers showcasing their prose fiction in front of a live audience and panel of judges. Register to read your work at frances.colville@gmail.com or just come along to listen.

On Wednesday, October 14th, 6pm there will be a chance to join a group of local writers, Storytraders, for the launch of their new collection of stories, poems and flash fiction inspired by 'rope'. A number of writers will be reading their work beginning at 6.15pm and the book will be on sale at the event.

Later in the evening at 8pm there will be a retelling of The Picture of Dorian Gray. Adapted by Wilde's grandson Merlin Holland and John O'Connor, the play is set in the decadent world of Victorian London. Combining drawing-room comedy and gothic horror, this is a gripping and hugely entertaining theatrical event that showcases Wilde's remarkable talent.

There will be a workshop on Thursday, October 15th, 4-6pm with author and journalist Maria McCarthy. Writing For Publication gives aspiring writers insider tips on how to get journalism, novels or non-fiction books published.

Enjoy an evening of wonderful poetry and prose from this year's Bridport Prize judges Roger McGough (Poetry), Jane Rogers (Short Story) and Jane Feaver (The Peggy Chapman Andrews Award For a First Novel), Friday, October 16th, 7.30pm.

Step back to the sixties on Sunday, October 18th and celebrate the 50th anniversary of one of the most exciting years in recent history -1965. There'll be an open-mic afternoon where musicians can play the year's biggest hits or something a little more obscure, all are welcome to join us to rewind five decades to a year whose musical influence still resonates today. MC Declan Duffy.

The week will culminate in a screening of Dr Zhivago, the award-winning movie based on Pasternick's novel. The epic romance tells the story of Russian physician and poet who, although married to another, falls in love with a political activist's wife and experiences hardship during the First World War and then the October Revolution.

Arts Centre Director Laura Cockett said "We're looking forward to celebrating reading and writing with a week of entertaining activities for all".

Tickets are available lonline from www.bridport-arts.com or from the Arts Centre's box office 01308 424204.

Adam Long's 'Dickens Abridged'

FROM Adam Long, founding member of The Reduced Shakespeare Company and co-creator of The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (abridged) comes Dickens Abridged – a fast-paced musical comedy. An absurdly talented cast of four bring hundreds of the great author's best-loved characters to life in 70 minutes of madcap Dickensian mayhem.

This wonderful show is a high-speed comic journey through Dickens' Greatest Hits, including Oliver Twist, Great Expectations (complete with flaming bride), David Copperfield, Bleak House in less than sixty seconds, A Tale of Two Cities featuring a fully functioning guillotine, Nicholas Nickleby, The Old Curiosity Shop, and, of course... A Christmas Carol.

It also delves into the bizarre-but-true story of Charles Dickens' own life, including his complicated romantic entanglements and his inexplicable enthusiasm for performing the bludgeoning scene from Oliver Twist over and over and over again.

A singing, dancing love-letter to the life and works of the great man and unlike any Dickens-based show you've ever seen before.

'Dickens Abridged' will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis this Saturday, October 17th. For more details or to book call 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

Harbour Voices

Songs and stories of the sea

AFTER the sell-out success of the show Harbour Voices at the Marine Theatre in Lyme in August, there will be another chance to see the show on Saturday, October 17th at 7.30pm at Wootton Fitzpaine Village Hall.

Hailed as "unbelievably brilliant – a triumph" with "a glorious set which really evokes the sense of a fishing village", the show features songs and stories about the lives of men and women past and present who work with boats and the sea.

The show has been put together by the Lyme Regis Shanty Singers, a twenty-strong group of men and women. Audience members can if they wish join in with some of the rousing choruses of the traditional sea shanties, or sit back and enjoy the original songs - "with harmonies that make your heart soar", as one reviewer wrote - created by members of the cast.

Tickets cost £8. To reserve, contact Sue on 01297 560948 or Penny 07825 339 289.

A 'Special' Night with Terry Hall

Terry Hall

FREE RANGE Promotions are extremely proud to be kicking off the Christmas holidays with an up close and intimate live DJ Set from legendary Specials Front Man Terry Hall at the Electric Palace on Thursday, December 17th, and tickets are on sale now.

In between touring commitments with The Specials and some solo projects, Terry Hall takes his own collection of music to selected venues across the country to give audiences a chance to hear the songs he loves.

As lead singer of one of the most important and game changing British bands of all time The Specials, Terry and his gang hammered the charts worldwide, with hits including A Message To You Rudy, Ghost Town, Gangsters, Nite Club, Monkey Man, and many many more. In addition to his music with the Specials, Terry Hall sang for Fun Boy Three, The Colourfield, Terry, Blair & Anouchka and Vegas. In 1995 he released his first solo album and has since collaborated with Gorillaz, Dub Pistols and Tricky.

His DJ sets take in some of the finest music from the last 40 years, with a style mixing up rare and classic tracks from across the genres, anything from Ska and Two Tone to 80s synth pop, hip hop and indie.

Terry's musical tastes are eclectic to say the least, as confirmed when he did five Sunday afternoon sessions as guest DJ on 6 Music in early 2014. The response from listeners was phenomenal. Terry Hall was a natural in the radio studio environment.

Attend one of his DJ sets and expect to hear the likes of David Bowie, Toots & The Maytals, The Las, The Jackson 5, Max Romeo, Althea & Donna, Talking Heads, and much more. He closed one set in Stoke-on-Trent with the Zorba's Dance Greek anthem. And it was brilliant.

It's all about fantastic music, but going to one of Terry Hall's DJ sets is also a great opportunity for getting an autograph or photo with the man himself – something that's proved a challenge at a Specials' gig over the years.

Terry Hall will be playing at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Thursday, December 17th 2015. As tickets are anticipated to sell out quickly early booking is strongly recommended. Tickets are £12.50 + bf or £15 on door and available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre or online at www.seetickets.com

Stand-up Sara to headline Pavilion comedy night

MOCK the Week regular Sara Pascoe comes to town this month to headline the latest stellar line up of comedy at the Weymouth Pavilion.

Famed for her intelligent, erudite and fiercely funny stand up; Sara Pascoe shot to fame in 2011 as a regular on Channel 4's Stand Up for the Week.

Since then her career has gone from strength to strength and in 2015 she has cemented her position as one of the most exciting new comedians in British comedy with appearances on an array of TV comedy shows from Live at the Apollo to QI.

Before this however she had be wowing fans and critics alike with a series of standout Edinburgh Fringe shows that educated and entertained in equal measure.

Joining Sara on the line up will be Bournemouth based comic, Frank Skinner's support act, Gareth Richards.

Known for his unique blend of stand-up, one-liners and low-key comedy songs Gareth Richards is one of the best loved acts on the comedy circuit and a former Edinburgh Comedy Award Best Newcomer nominee.

As well as supporting Skinner on tour, Richards also co-hosted a Sony award-winning Absolute Radio show for two years alongside him. As well as appearing in his own right on shows such as Russell Howard's Good News and Live at the Electric.

Completing the line up will be one of the big discoveries of the 2014 Edinburgh festival, James Veitch. Veitch sold out a month long run at the festival for his critically acclaimed show that was described as "Tears-down-the-face funny" by The Sunday Herald and as a show that "manages to be educational while delivering near-constant belly laughs," by The Scotsman.

Resident compere Tom Glover will once again be taking on the hosting duties and sharing his latest new material with the crowd.

Sunday Night Comedy at Weymouth Pavilion will be at 7:30pm on Sunday, October 18th. Tickets are £15 and available online at www.weymouthpavilion.com or from the box office on 01305 783225.

Tickets are available for £12.50 if bought alongside tickets for November's show featuring Shappi Khorsandi.

There's a load of perfect nonsense at The Lyric this half term!

KICKING OFF the half term week, children's theatre company Soap Soup bring their third production The Owl and the Pussycat's Treasury of Nonsense to The Lyric Theatre, exploring all the nonsense of Edward Lear in a highly visual and inventive way.

The Owl is a poet, intent on writing his greatest masterpiece yet, but he shares his den with the Pussycat who likes telling stories too, and she has quite a different approach! This unlikely pair work and play together, creating magical worlds amongst the things in their den, and turning everyday objects into new friends for their nonsense stories. But can they really work together to tell the most important tale of all: their own story, of The Owl and the Pussycat?

Inspired by the runcible works of Edward Lear, Soap Soup Theatre present a collection suitable for all ages over five of some of Lear's most loved poems in another feast for the eyes, ears and imagination. Go racing with the Nutcracker and the Sugar-tongs, travel the hilltops alongside the Dong with the Luminous nose, and sail away in a sieve, to the land where the Bong tree grows!

Audiences may recall Soap Soup's previous productions at the Lyric, Little Red Riding Hood and The Snow Baby. With their delightfully unpredictable story telling style, using clown, object puppetry and magical music, Soap Soup rounds up a collection of nonsense, bigger and better than ever before.

The performances of The Owl and the Pussycat's Treasury of Nonsense will take place on Saturday, October 24th at 11am & 2pm

Tickets are £8 adults / £6 children / £25 family of 4 (2+2 or 1+3), and are available from Bridport Arts Centre: 01308 424204 / online and from Box Office Coffee, plus on the door 30mins before the showings.

There are limited spaces available so booking is essential - call The Lyric on 01308 423951 or email admin@the-lyric.com to book your place.

Philip Clouts Quartet 'Umoya' Album Launch Tour comes to Bridport

PIANIST Philip Clouts brings his quartet to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, October 23rd as part of a wide ranging UK tour to mark the release of a new album, Umoya, one of the first releases on the new jazz imprint of American classical label Odradek.

It's an album that confirms the Cape Town-born Clouts' ongoing love affair with South African music but also with rhythms and melodies from around the world. Influences including Sufi music, Nigerian dance rhythms and folk music from Romania and Southern Italy, as well as gospel music all figure, in his latest compositions.

"Jazz and world music have been important to me throughout my musical life," says the now Dorset-based Clouts who emerged on the London jazz scene during the 1980s and became a key member of popular world jazz ensemble Zubop before moving to the Jurassic coast in 2006. "I'm inspired by both the freedom of jazz and the rootedness of world music with its sense of dance, community and spirituality. Listening to both genres always reveals a variety of approaches to rhythm, harmony and melody."

Although he came over to the UK from Cape Town with his family as a young child in the early 1960s, Clouts grew up hearing the music of his homeland as his parents – his father, Sydney Clouts, was a poet whose work captured the South African landscape – had brought their favourite records with them.

After his two older brothers began taking piano lessons, he impressed the family by picking up what his siblings were playing by ear. He found himself drawn to improvising, and hearing the great British pianist Stan Tracey on a television programme when he was twelve attracted him to jazz and inspired him to take the instrument more seriously.

It was while studying anthropology at Cambridge University that Clouts realised that he really wanted to focus on contributing to his own culture. On returning to London he got the chance to play with and learn from musicians including pianist Bheki Mseleku, who became a mentor for a while, and percussionist Thebe Lipere, who joined Clouts in the first incarnation of Zubop.

"There was a lot of South African music on the London scene at that time in the 1980s," he says. "I never saw the Blue Notes, who were the first wave, live because I was too young but there were bands that had grown out of them and were carrying on that same spirit that they'd brought over. Their saxophonist, Dudu Pukwana was a real force in those days and, of course, listening to the Blue Notes' pianist, Chris MacGregor's Brotherhood of Breath was a huge inspiration."

Clouts' current quartet features London-based musicians, rising star saxophonist Samuel Eagles, bass guitarist Alex Keen and the Yamaha Jazz Scholarship-winning drummer Dave Ingamells, all players who have, he says, taken to the multi-cultural mix at the root of his music with real enthusiasm.

"Umoya is the Zulu word for 'life force'. It can also be translated as 'soul' and 'spirit' and I'm really pleased with the way Sam, Alex and Dave brought these aspects out in the music on the album," says Clouts. "We've played a couple of dates on the tour already and I'm really looking forward to the stretch of concerts because they'll give us a chance to really develop the music."

The Bridport concert will be the only South West date on the tour and it is on the actual release date of the new album. In addition there will be a curtain raiser from the Woodroffe School Little Big Band.

The concert takes place on Friday, October 23rd at 8pm at Bridport Arts Centre, South Street. Tickets are £10 or £5 for students and children, and are available from the website at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

The new BMW 7 Series

THE sixth generation of the BMW 7 Series is a true flagship of the BMW range, blending comfort, style, dynamic ability and cutting edge technology in equal measure to create an inspiring mode of luxury transport.

Thanks to the intelligent use of multiple materials in the construction of the body, including carbon-fibre reinforced plastic (CFRP) for the Carbon Core, the new BMW 7 Series is both stronger and up to 130kg lighter than its predecessor. This advanced construction is complemented by six-cylinder petrol and diesel engines taken from the latest generation of BMW power units.

With a wealth of interior comfort and driving features, from new ConnectedDrive technology to the sumptuous Executive Lounge feature, the new BMW 7 Series redefines luxury on the move.

Exterior Design: presence and elegance in harmony

The design of the new BMW 7 Series is a thoroughly modern interpretation of luxury. Every detail has been executed with meticulous precision, clearly positioning the new BMW 7 Series as the flagship model of the current BMW range: a car of elegance, refinement, advanced technology and high quality workmanship.

Like its predecessor, the new BMW 7 Series is offered in two body variants. The wheelbase of the extended version is 14cm longer, at 3,210mm and offers extra rear space as a result. At 5,098mm in total length (long-wheelbase version: 5,238mm), 1,902mm in width (excluding mirrors) and 1,478mm (1,485mm) in height, the new BMW 7 Series is the largest series-produced car the brand has ever built. Both body variants display familiar BMW proportions, characterised by a long bonnet, short front overhang, long wheelbase and a set-back passenger compartment. A smoothly downward-sloping roofline adds a hint of sportiness.

From the front, the new BMW 7 Series radiates a feeling of assured presence. It is the brand's first car to feature an Active Air Stream kidney grille, improving aerodynamics as well as making a strong visual statement. The headlight units extend up as far as the grille, while the light graphic of the familiar BMW twin circular headlights is levelled off at its upper and lower edges. The headlights have a precisely detailed design that portrays the sophisticated technology within both in standard full LED form and when optional BMW Laserlights are specified. The lower air intake stretched wide across the front end, the chrome bars in the outer edges of the intake and the horizontal contours of the LED fog lamps underline the car's broad-set stance.

First deliveries of new '308 GTi by Peugeot Sport

REMEMBER, remember the fifth of November… because the iconic PEUGEOT GTi badge is returning to the medium car segment for the first time since the 1990s, and all is set for a thrilling performance. One of the most eagerly-anticipated new model launches of 2015, the 308 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT is a high-end performance 'hot hatch' designed with the sophisticated and enthusiastic driver in mind.

Launched as a high-performance model for the 308 range – itself winner of the prestigious 2014 European Car of the Year – the 308 GTi has been extensively developed by PEUGEOT SPORT - the Brand's in-house team of motor sport engineers that boasts a wealth of expertise and success in the performance road car and international competition fields. The 308 GTi is the fourth road car project in three years following the critically acclaimed RCZ R, 208 GTi 30th and 208 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT.

The letters GTi only ever feature on PEUGEOT products with the highest performance. An acronym of Grand Tourer Injection, it's a badge which has become shorthand for the hot hatch segment – a sector in which PEUGEOT has more than played its part. Products such as the 205 GTi and 309 GTi have acquired near-classic status in the decades since launch, and remain hugely popular with owners who appreciate their exceptional dynamic performance.

The 308 GTi continues in the same vein. Due to the dedication of the PEUGEOT SPORT team, the GTi offers customers a striking new interpretation of the 308's sleek exterior design, enhanced sports-oriented interior detailing and an unparalleled driving experience with strong desirability and following.

Powered by the most-powerful engine of its size, the state-of-the-art 1.6-litre THP petrol engine with Stop&Start (S&S) technology is available in two power outputs – 250hp and 270hp – with both providing impressive performance; limited to 155mph. Even the environmental credentials are class-leading, with CO2 emissions at just 139g/km, while official Combined Cycle fuel economy is 47.0mpg.

With both models weighing in at just 1205kg this enables the 308 GTi 250 to sprint to 62mph in just 6.2 seconds, with a power-to-weight ratio of just 4.82kg/hp. The 308 GTi 270 sets a new segment record for power-to-weight – at just 4.46kg/hp – and reaches 62mph in a mere 6.0 seconds flat.

Key to the appeal of the 270 GTi is its Torsen® limited-slip differential, fitted as standard. Designed to improve cornering by channeling the torque to the wheel with the greatest traction, it also makes it possible to drive faster around corners and enhance grip and handling.

The 270 GTi is also equipped with 2.3kg lighter 19"'Carbone' lightweight alloy wheels shod with the latest Michelin Pilot Super Sport tyres. The design showcases the highly-capable 380mm ventilated front brake discs with solid red four-piston PEUGEOT SPORT signature calipers.

The 308 GTi boasts purposeful new styling, sitting 11mm lower to the ground than its siblings. Aggressive new front and rear design elements have been added, with six distinctive exterior colours available – new Ultimate Red, Pearlescent White, Magnetic Blue, Nera Black, Cumulus Grey and Hurricane Grey. For the most eye-catching look, a 'Coupe Franche' two-tone design is exclusive to the 308 GTi 270, contrasting Ultimate Red with Nera Black.

The interior has been carefully specified to complement the 308 GTi's exterior, subtly emphasising its sporting credentials. The door sill carries the PEUGEOT SPORT and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminum. Red stitching features on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats. The GTi 270 features PEUGEOT SPORT race-inspired seats, upholstered in leather effect and Alcantara, which provide enhanced lateral support.

The compact steering wheel – an integral part of the 308's acclaimed PEUGEOT i-Cockpit cabin design – provides natural grip and precise direction. It features full-grain leather with a GTi logo at the base and a red centring mark at the top. The head-up display instrument panel read-outs has a chequered backdrop, and a GTi greets the driver on start-up.

UK pricing and specification for new Mercedes-Benz Coupé announced

THE new C-Class Coupé is now available to order, priced from £30,955 OTR, ahead of first UK deliveries in December.

With four engine options and two model lines, the new C-Class Coupé builds on the specification of the best-selling C-Class Saloon and Estate. The range starts with the C 200 petrol engine, which produces 184 hp and is available with a six-speed manual (123 g/km of CO2) or 7G-Tronic seven-speed automatic gearbox (125 g/km). The new C 300 engine produces 245 hp and comes only with the 7G-Tronic gearbox, with CO2 from 146 g/km.

Two diesel engines are available: the 170 hp C 220 d, with a six-speed manual (106 g/km) or 9G-Tronic nine-speed automatic gearbox (106 g/km), and the C 250 d, which produces 204 hp and comes with a 9G-Tronic gearbox (109 g/km).

Two model lines are available: Sport and AMG Line. Standard equipment includes LED headlights and taillights; Active Park Assist; PARKTRONIC parking sensors; a reversing camera; sports seats with ARTICO upholstery including heated front seats; 7-inch colour screen; Garmin navigation; electrically folding mirrors; and Collision Prevention Assist Plus automatic braking system. The C 300 model also features as standard a sports exhaust system with switchable sound.

The Sport model comes with a gloss black interior trim with aluminium inlays in the doors, 17-inch alloy wheels and a diamond grille with black-painted pins.

The AMG Line includes black ash wood trim, an AMG sports steering wheel with flat bottom, brushed steel sports pedals and a black roof lining. The exterior features an AMG bodystyling kit, 18-inch five-spoke alloy wheels, a diamond grille with chrome pins and 15mm lowered sports suspension.

Two key options packages are available: Premium and Premium Plus. The £1,695 Premium Package includes a panoramic glass roof, keyless go, seat memory package and ambient lighting. To this the £2,995 Premium Plus Package also adds a Burmester surround sound system and COMAND online with 8-inch screen.

A £1,695 Driver's Assistance Package includes DISTRONIC Plus with stop and go (adaptive cruise control); Active blind spot and lane-keeping assist, Pre-safe with pedestrian detection (anticipatory safety system).

Topping the range is the £61,160 Mercedes-AMG C 63 Coupé. With a 4.0-litre bi-turbo V8 engine and AMG Speedshift MCT 7-speed automatic gearbox, the C 63 produces 476 hp and 650 Nm, and can accelerate from standstill to 62 mph in 4.0 seconds. The £66,910 Mercedes-AMG C 63 S produces 510 hp and 700 Nm, with zero to 62 mph taking 3.9 seconds.

Puddletown Rugby

Puddletown downed by decisive late penalty

Puddletown RFC North Dorset 3rds 18

FOR the second week running the men in red managed to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory writes Ian Frizzle.

As with the cup game last week, Puddletown started the brighter of the two sides with Matt Watts getting on the end of a miss move from a 5m lineout and driving over to score a converted try.

The home side continued to apply pressure and from a scrum on the visitors' 10m line, No.8 Dan Udell picked up and drove down the blind side, he passed to Watts who popped the ball to skipper, Jez Beale who barrelled over to score in the corner.

A loose North Dorset clearance kick was then fielded by Watts who fed veteran full back Toby Musgrove who made 40 metres, the ball ended up in the hands of winger Ben Spinney, who went over for the try, which he then converted.

Just before the break the visitors started their come back. From a quick tap penalty the home side were caught napping and flanker Simon Drake powered over to score an unconverted try to make the half time score 17-5.

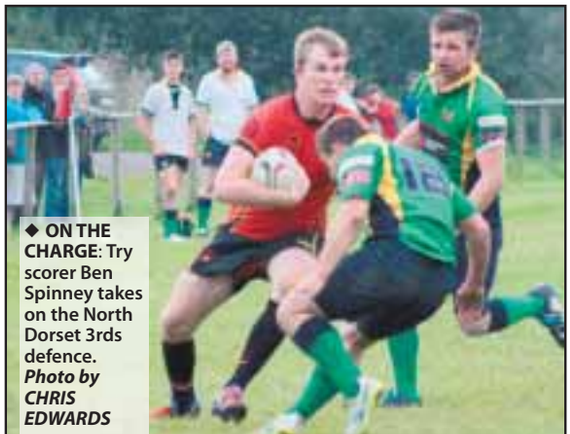

In the second half the North Dorset side had the benefit of the slope and kept the pressure on the Villagers. Puddletown fumbled a line out on their own 5m line and North Dorset captain Aubrey Aviss, went through on the loose ball to touch down.

Enterprising play by the away side then saw them recycle the ball through several phases with centre Josh Wyman finishing off a flowing move and going over to score in the corner and cut the deficit to 17-15.

The hosts tried hard to respond, but were adjudged by the referee to have been holding on in a ruck on their own 10m line. North were awarded a penalty which they took quickly with a tap behind the referee.

The ref was unsighted, so pulled them back to take the penalty again, this time they elected to go for posts. Tom Judd struck the kick well and it crept over to give the visitors the lead for the first time in the match at 17-18.

Puddletown valiantly battled the last few minutes in an attempt to regain the lead, but the North Dorset defence held out and time ran out.

Wasteful Weymouth

Balti Sports 5
Wareham Rangers 2

BALTI remain top of the Dorset Premier Legaue table after this well-deserved win against a plucky Wareham side.

The visitors edged the opening quarter however, on 21 minutes Dan ANDREWS gave the hosts the lead which was doubled on the half hour courtesy of a Charlie MAY header.

In to the 2nd half and the lead was further increased by Josh BURTON'S penalty.

Wareham pulled one back before Sam NICHOLLS tapped in from 5 yards.

The visitors grabbed a second consolation only for Shaun Lock to restore the hosts' their three-goal cushion with a 25 yarder.

Weymouth Res 1
Merley Sports 3

WEYMOUTH Reserves had the better of the first half at the Bob Lucas Stadium and were left ruing numerous goalscoring opportunities which were squandered.

Dan PEART finally broke the deadlock in the 48th minute with a quickly taken free kick to give the Terras the lead.

Merley hit back in the 52 minute with a well taken goal from Jordan COLLINS. Substitute Luke PHILLIPS then put the visitors in front with 10 minutes to go and COLLINS bagged a second in stoppage time.

Terras boss Bradley ASAGBA, banished to the stands in the second half, was left to regret the early wasted opportunities.

Weymouth & District Table Tennis League round-up

Youngsters shine in opening day fixtures

THIS season's opening week of the Weymouth & District Table Tennis League saw last season's Division Two winners (Budmouth B) and runners-up (Budmouth C) face off against each other in DIVISION ONE.

Jamie Blair scored the full nine points with Ethan Gear and Will Jolliffe both scoring six for the C team who went to run out 23-17 winners.

The leagues new team, Park District, made a winning start to their maiden campaign with a convincing 29-7 win over Colliton X. Both John Ryan and Geoff Ware score nine points apiece with Ray Cody just missing out with eight.

Springfield A got their season off to a positive start with a 26-8 win over last year's runners-up, Wyke A. Steve Jackson and new player Thomas Babler topped scored with a maximum nine points. Budmouth A had a very good opening victory winning 27-9 against a strong YMCA side. Tom and Lily Cherry and Sam Millar won all nine singles matches for the loss of just six.

DIVISION TWO opened with a match between All Saints and Budmouth D, in which the former came out on top in a close 21-17 win. Despite Neil Hardisty scoring nine points for Budmouth he was unable to stop promising youngsters Ben Hannigan (7) and brothers Luke and Dan Dadds, with six each, from building an unassailable lead for All Saints.

Preston B sit atop the division having registered a strong 29-9 win over Pilgrims A.

They won all but one of their ten matches with only John Hunnisett registering a win for Pilgrims after coming from 2-1 down in a marathon with Ros Page.

Shipton Gorge B secure a 28-12 victory over Preston C. Graham Albertella and Derek Wheeler both hit the full nine points with Brian Cammell backing them up well with eight.

Shipton Gorge C had a 27-9 win over Pilgrims B in DIVISION THREE with Dan Corren and Dave Poole securing nine points each.

New team Shipton Gorge Youth are bottom by a single point after their inaugural match in the league finished in an 8-25 loss to the experienced Colliton C.

Andy Ray top scored for Colliton (9) but Shipton's Patrick Harper (7) notched up wins against both Katherine Bundy and Peter Loakes.

The two Steps teams faced each other in a keenly contested match in which team M beat team J 24-11. Richard Wood (9) top scored on the night for the victors.

Wyke C kicked off their season with a 22-13 win over Preston D. Roy Sharp enjoyed three 3-0 wins to pick up nine points for Wyke whilst stalwart Malcolm Smith (6) picked up two victories for Preston in his other matches.

Budmouth E also got off to a winning start this week with the girls beating a vastly more experienced Springfield D side 19-16. April Heasman pocketed herself a full nine points despite being pushed all the way by Dave Moth with eight.

Full results and averages can be found at www.ttleague.co.uk.

Lyme Regis Sailing

Good turnout

CONTINUING with races 4, 5 and 6 of the October series an unusually high turnout for the time of year saw 20 boats on the water.

The fleet included three visiting Merlins who were tuning up in advance of their inland water championships in two weeks time, making a class of five.

Lyme's Jon Turner & Richard Parsloe achieved the boat speed they have been looking for after a season of developmental adjustments to their new Merlin.

With a gradient wind of force 3-4, alto stratus clouds and a low level mist inshore, race officer Joss Kent set a big course. Shifty winds again proved tricky and there were several capsizes.

Cameron Moss, a youth member helming his RS 800 with dad Darrol as crew, did particularly well as it is a hard boat to sail to its handicap, steadily improving with a 6th, 4th and a 1st as the morning progressed.

Turner & Parsloe sailed to a second place and a first, while Dave Stubbs & Max Whittome held their second place overall in the series on 23 points, and Dom Bowns took three 3rd places to stay 1st overall with 15 points.

Closely challenging in third place are the Moss's on 26.5 with Jerry Rook in fourth on 28 points.

Results overall, October Series after six races: 1st Dominic Bowns & Jim, (Merlin) 15pts, 2nd Dave Stubbs & Max Whittome (RS200) 23pts, 3rd Cameron & Darrol Moss(RS800) 26.5pts, 4th Jerry Rook, (Albacore) 28pts, 5th Dave Guthrie (Phantom) 42pts.

Lyme Regis Golf

Malcolm above the middle

By Richard Jackman

A SOLID, steady round from Malcolm Wilson produced the best score of the day, a five under par nett 66 to win Division One of the October medal, from Peter Mayles, nett 68 and Maurice de Pasquale, 69.

Division Two saw Richard Cook's 70 good enough to clinch a win, a point ahead of 'Albert' Hall with David Binns' 72 giving him bronze.

In the midweek stableford David Lyon's six birdies helped him to a winning score of 40 points, one point better than Stuart Wight with Gareth Williams 3rd on 36 points. David's performance took his handicap down to scratch, just reward for a very competitive year.

Lyme Ladies held their AGM shotgun competition which was won by Ellie Langford & Kim Beauchamp.

At the AGM outgoing Ladies' Captain, Rosie Jackman was thanked for her year in office and Caroline Baker was warmly welcomed as her successor.

In benign conditions only Jim Kerr hit the 36-point mark for the best score of the day to secure victory in the seniors stableford, Division One, ahead of Richard Jackman, 34 and Peter Mayles 32. Division Two was won by Graham Winter 33 points from Gareth Vaughan 31 and Roger Baker 30.

Win secured, but could do better

Bridport 18 Poole 3

Dorset & Wilts 2 (South)

BRIDPORT lie fifth in the Dorset & Wilts 2 South table after this workmanlike display against a Poole side who have conceded more than180 points in the four fixtures to date.

However, the visitors earned the first of many penalty decisions in the game. They gained nothing from it and nor did Bridport from the next which was in their favour.

But from open play Ricky Stubbs, who kicked well for Bridport all afternoon, hoisted a lofty up-and-under which was picked up deftly by Richard Middleton and off-loaded to Rich Pearce. He beat two defenders to scoot round and score under the posts. Stubbs added the conversion.

Poole's physically imposing forwards gained another penalty as Bridport handled illegally in the ruck and kicked the three points, but that was to be their only score.

Bridport's increasing dominance forced two more kickable penalties, one of which was successful, to take the score at half-time to 10-3

The second half began with Poole offside again and a further three points to the boot of Stubbs.

Dave Cutting set up the next attack with a characteristic sniping run and chip kick which put the defence in all sorts of bother. The resulting penalty was kicked to the corner.

Bridport secured the line-out and set up a rolling maul that had Poole backpedalling over their own line and James Tuck touched down. The kick from out wide was missed.

Bridport continued to enjoy most of the pressure without quite finishing off some promising moves, a late flurry from Poole was repulsed and the game ended at 18-3.

The host, with Joe Hewetson in MoM form, can be satisfied with the result but will need to be more clinical against next week's opponents, league leaders Weymouth & Portland.

◆ TUCKED AWAY: James Tuck (grounded) touches down to seal the 18-3 win for Bridport. Photo by MARK PERKIN

Chard U13s 22 Bridport 19

CHARD started the quicker and responded to the break down with a sharper edge. Bridport's defence was good but first tackles didn't hit home which allowed Chard to score first from a wide move.

This was answered by a running try from Finlay Shoemark whose side steps split the opposition. Without this converted try and his second unconverted try Bridport would of been well out of the game.

The second half was Bridport's and with the forwards winning the break down the backs attacked the gain line with MoM River Binksbursting through the ten channel to set up a forward attack.

With good support the pack drove the ball across the line with Callum Fowler scoring to give Bridport a 19-17 lead.

From the restart Chard scored in the corner with a minute to go to take the match 22-19.

Good start to Colfox cross country season

THE Sir John Colfox Academy excelled once again in the first round of the English Schools Cup held at Millfield School, their first race of the season.

Drawn against schools from Dorset, Somerset and Wiltshire it what is regarded as one of the toughest regions in the country, three of the four teams progressed to the next round.

The inter boys were looking to repeat the performance of the team last year by reaching the national final, and captain Tom Crabtree led the team home closely followed by the impressive Dan Elliott and then Manny Cox and James Cox in third and fourth place.

Harry Tompkins and Brian Robertshaw completed the team score to secure the fourth consecutive win at this stage for the inter boys team.

The junior boys then looked to repeat their previous performance and were led off by the captain Euan Pollock who also finished as the team's best performer. He was closely followed by Fin Cauldwell who was competing in his first race for the school as a Year 7.

Harry Burwood, Adam Elliott, Barney Sutcliffe and Tom Kilcoyne made up the final places and made sure the team qualified for round two in third place.

The inter girls, captained by Sydney March, were very confident going into the race having qualified as juniors for the past two years.

However it was very tough, and it was a nervous wait for the team including Olivia Willmore, Dulcie Gatehouse, Hannah Bowell, Bronwyn Wright and Rosie Hart before they were awarded third place and can now look forward to another appearance in Round Two.

The final race involved the junior girls; the most inexperienced team.

This turned out to be a very exciting race and the team of captain Maddy Herbert, Ellen Pearce, Flick Ackerman, May Cornwell, Daisy Parsons and Amelia Brown were very unfortunate to miss out on progressing by just three points.

Round two takes place at Leweston School on November 7th

◆ SO CLOSE: The Colfox Junior girls team of captain Maddy Herbert, Ellen Pearce, Flick Ackerman, May Cornwell, Daisy Parsons and Amelia Brown whichnarrowly missed out on a place on roundt wo of the English Schools Cross Country Cup.

Bridport Squash

Devastating win for 3rd team

Bridport 3rd 20 Springfields 2

Bridport3rds scored maximum points in a devastating display of team squash writes Roger Lewis.

Riaz Dharamshi at one has certainly improved as showed in his game against Springfields Tom Greenslade.

His counter attacking and tactical play put Greenslade out of position on many occasions enabled him to play some tight good length shots coupled with the odd drop shot forcing his opponent into making unforced errors on his way to a 9-5, 2-9, 9-2, 9-1 victory.

The number two match was between Bridport's Tom Munro at two is another who has improved his game, and it was his ability to play a steady no thrills game and be consistent throughout; his hitting of the ball is always true and accurate; that saw him victorious 9-7, 9-5, 9-7 against Gordon Lewis.

At three the experienced Paul Cross started poorly against Bill Oakley, losing the first game, but soon got his act together and produced an awesome display with some very powerful squash; indeed Oakley never recorded another point; and Cross cruised home 9-10, 9-0, 9-0, 9-0.

The number four match was between Nathan Neale making his debut and Ian Lever. Neale's game is based around his fitness coupled with good length shots, and as much as Lever tried it was Neale who counter attacked on all occasions with a dogged display of squash giving him a 9-3, 9-3, 9-3 victory which on this showing he will eventually emulate his father Nick, BLC's manager.

Team captain Dave Stewart was another player in good form in his number five match against Springfield's Wendy Richmond.

Indeed he kept his game very tight and compact and at the right time made full use of the boast shot which had Richmond struggling on many occasions, and he recorded a very well worked out 9-7, 9-6, 9-1 victory.

Bees news

Poor second half disappoints Annetts

Parley Sports 4
Bridport Reserves 0
Dorset Premier Division

AFTER a good run of form Bridport Reserves were undone by four second half goals at Parley.

Manager Shaun Annetts' plans were hit by the absence of the use of first team players returning following injury, and also the loss of central defender Luke King who was held up in traffic on his way back from Liverpool. Despite this the Bees gave a good account of themselves in a goal less the first half.

With the manager's words ringing in their ears not to do anything silly following the half-time team talk, the Bees defence did just that. Instead of clearing their lines, they tried to play the ball out of defence and were punished when the ball fell kindly for Toby Holmes who thumped home Parley's first from the edge of the penalty area.

Bridport looked to get back on level terms and Tom Blair produced a devastating run down the left and along the top of the penalty area before unleashing a stinging shot which just whistled past the angle of the goal frame.

Soon after this right back Adam Stordy broke through to fire in a 20-yard shot which brought a fine save from Parley keeper James Collins.

tactical switch

With his side unable to break back, Annetts decided to change the formation in an effort to find the equaliser - but almost immediately Parley doubled their lead when Matt Newbury cut along the byline for Dan Hickford to convert at the near post.

This reversal led Bridport to lose their tactical discipline and shape allowing Parley to take control.

Keeper Josh Hadley produced a couple of excellent saves before the hosts added two in the final ten minutes to put an unfair slant on the result with goals from Kieran Douglas and a second for Holmes.

Annett's was disappointed with the result particularly in light of recent performances.

He took responsibility for introducing the change in formation when he did, which led to the second goal.

"Their second came about whilst we were in the process of changing which left their player free wide. We should have waited, and for that I take responsibility for the timing.

"We had two very good efforts on goal just before, which if one had gone in who knows what might have happened.

"However we didn't create enough going forward and made some bad decisions, and need to get back to playing how we have been."

Plucky Beaminster denied deserved win

Poole 2 Beaminster 2

BEAMINSTER Ladies produced another plucky display at Poole where they held their hosts to a very creditable draw despite being two players short.

Poole had a full squad with five substitutes available on the touchline, whilst Beaminster, once again struggling to find numbers for away games, travelled with nine players rather than concede the points.

With Poole constantly swopping personnel, it made Beaminster's task even harder, particularly in the second half as they began to tire, and it was in the final minutes that Poole finally broke their resolve to equalise and earn a point.

The West Dorset club defended brilliantly to the point that apart from the goal conceded, keeper Rachel Goodfellow only touched the ball once more in the first half as Beaminster's determination frustrated the host's to the point that they over-elaborated at times.

They did take the lead after 26 minutes when a shot was deflected by a defender. The follow up effort was going wide until it was turned in at the far post.

Beaminster decided to change tactics at the break and in the second half played further up the pitch putting pressure on Poole and it paid dividends.

Julia May's run down the right and drive into the D resulted in a short corner from which Andrea Prentice and Emily Baker played a one-two before setting up Holly Clarke to slot home.

Five minutes later they took the lead in similar fashion. This time May's run and drive wasn't interrupted and her pass from the byline found Baker who in turn fed Clarke whose shot was turned into goal by a defender.

Poole faced with the ignominy of being beaten by nine players, upped their game and volume eventually told.

Although Beaminster tried to shore up their defence, eventually they were exposed eight minutes from time and neat interplay saw the hosts equalise with a shot from the top of the D.

Thoroughly exhausted from their efforts, Beaminster managed to play out the final minutes to earn a brilliant draw.

Although everyone deserved an accolade for their efforts, Phoebe Stewart rightly was awarded the Player-of-the-Match for her relentless running, whilst Georgina Baker and Rachel Andrews also deserve mention for their fortitude and calmness in defence.

Tough time for Dorset A

West Dorset A1 North Devon A 6

CAPTAIN Henry Middleton described West Dorset Hawks A's resounding defeat by their North Devon counterparts as 'a bad day at the office'.

With the team showing none of their recent form and no substitutes to call on they suffered a further setback when Middleton, having been sin binned for an illegal tackle, was injured on his return leaving him effectively a passenger as he was unable to run for the remainder of the match.

The visitors forced the play from the start and the only surprise was that it took them until the 14th minute before they took the lead.

And with West Dorset struggling to keep possession, and barely able to string more than a few passes together, the visitors made it 2-0 not long after following a short corner.

To their credit the home side did pull a goal back on 25 minutes from a neat move down the left when Alex Drew received the ball unmarked on the bye line and squared to John Kellas to slot home.

From here however, things started to go downhill with Middleton's infringement and injury, and just before half-time the visitors added a couple more goals to their tally to make it 4-1 at the break.

West Dorset did improve slightly in the second half but it was still the away side who were controlling proceedings.

The hosts were defending well but losing the battle in midfield and as a result they created very little for the forwards.

North Devon remained highly competitive all match and following an innocuous challenge from Dan Wyatt, one of their players pushed his hand into the Hawks' player's face and deservedly received a straight red card.

But despite a man short, North Devon still managed to score two more goals just before the final whistle to make the final score 6-1.

Skipper Middleton said, "We were awful. We had previously played well in our first two games but today we didn't have a clue when it came to the basics of keeping possession and passing the ball.

"It didn't help that we had no subs and I had to play on injured, but well done to North Devon as they played some good hockey and deservedly gave us a good spanking".

Disruption hits Dorch in slump at Slough

Slough Town 4
Dorchester Town 1
Evo-Stik Premier –att; 243

by Stuart Broom
stuart@pemedia.co.uk

DORCHESTER Town manager Mark Jermyn admitted that he may have been partly responsible for the Magpies heaviest defeat of the campaign so far when they were well beaten at Holloways Park last Tuesday.

With central defender Matt Oldring stuck in traffic en-route to the ground, Jermyn was forced to pair Tony Lee who played as an emergency centre half in the second half against Merthyr Town recently, and new signing midfielder Jack Alexander in the centre of defence.

Whilst the Magpies had been under pressure in the opening minutes they had survived, but the arrival of Oldring saw Jermyn withdraw Lee in his favour.

Two minutes later Slough scored and added another three minutes later to put themselves in the driving seat.

Jermyn admitted that his decisions to make the change to get Oldring on may have disrepute things. In hindsight he felt should have stayed with his original decision, and he took full responsibility.

However, he added that it was a massive learning curve and one he had learned from.

Despite the loss of defenders Jake Smeeton, Nathan Walker and Matt Dillon, the county town boss was confident on the back of a run of six unbeaten league games, and efforts from Jonah Ayunga and Charlie Davis showed their confidence.

But the Rebels got into the game and keeper Shane Murphy was forced into great save after Paul Stonehouse's shot was deflected by one of his defenders.

They took the lead two minutes after the substitution when Murphy failed to hold Warren Harris' drive and things got worse three minutes later when Oldring was penalised for handball.

Murphy could do nothing about Warren Putnam's vicious free kick that flew into his top corner of the net. They added a third Through Charlie Strutton on the hour .

Dorchester finally managed to retaliate and Bradley Tarbuck's shot ,was well saved by home stopper Mark Scott, before sub Nick Crittenden shot was just deflected wide. Then Scott saved from Jermyn.

Their efforts were rewarded when Crittenden showed some of his old magic to put in Tarbuck who rounded Scott to cut the deficit. But they were then undone as they surged forward as Charlie Mpi broke clear and rounded Murphy.

Terras earn good away point

Redditch United 1 Weymouth 1
Evo-Stik Premier – att; 368

WEYMOUTH will be satisfied with a point following their trip to the West Midlands where they took an early lead against a side tucked just below them in the Evo-Stik Southern Premier League.

However. the hosts levelled in an extended added time at the end of the first half, with both sides settling for stalemate in the second half.

Although Redditch could have closed the gap to three points with a game in hand had they beaten Weymouth, they would have been would have been conscious of the two defeats in their last two away games that saw them conceded five goals.

That was brought home to them after just nine minutes when Weymouth took the lead.

Keeper Jose Viega misjudged Jake Wannell's cross and Dean Evans pounced to stoop low and head the ball home.

The game unfortunately was held up on 39 minutes when Red's Jamie Ashmore was injured and needed lengthy medical attention to a knee injury which delayed the game for 20 minutes.

Redditch got the equaliser once the game restarted when player manager Jason Matthews' error allowed Jamie Osborne an easy opportunity 15 minutes into added time.

Tempers became raised during the interval and Redditch manager Liam McDonald was sent to the stands by referee Tom Ratherham.

The hosts stepped up the pressure in the second half and they created a number of chances to take the lead.

Mark Cooper tested Veiga with one of the two noteworthy Terras efforts, before Jim Mutton struck Matthews' crossbar with an effort and Jamie Molyneux might have done better after cutting through Weymouth's defence.

In the end both sides had to settle for a point.
